NOBODY UNDERSTOOD HOW I IDENTIFY.

When I reached out, I was struggling with accepting my sexuality. Ever since I was a kid I knew that I was different. I later figured out I was asexual. I felt isolated, alone, and completely misunderstood. I was really struggling the day I called Colorado Crisis Services, but they listened to me, accepted me, and helped me finally find acceptance from the person who mattered most: me.

No matter what you're going through, you don't have to go through it alone.
